

March 8

09:30	Registration
10:30	Opening Session	Prof. Victor S. Gonçalves
11:00	Cleia Detry & J.L. Cardoso	A History of Zooarchaeology in Portugal: State of the Art
11:15	Sónia Gabriel	Ichthyoarchaeological research in Portugal: perspectives and development
11:30	Nelson Almeida & C. Costa	The engagement of youth in archaeofaunal studies in Portugal: present scenario and considerations
11:45	Marina Évora	Exploitation of bone in the Upper Palaeolithic of Portugal
12:00	Debate
12:15	LUNCH BREAK
14:00	Jean-Philippe Brugal	Some flashes on Portuguese Archaeozoology
14:30	Nelson Almeida, S. Cura, P. Cura & P. Saladié	Breaking the bones: taphonomic indicators in experimental dynamic fracturation of bovid long bones
14:45	Lizzie Wright	The aurochs in Portugal: an important contribution to a wider picture of European aurochs morphological variation
15:00	Rita Dias	So many rabbits! Small animals' dietary role in the Mesolithic shellmidden of Cabeço da Amoreira (Muge, Central Portugal)
15:15	COFFEE BREAK
15:45	Poster session
16:15	Catherine Dupont	How can marine invertebrates help us to better understand the Neolithisation along the European Atlantic facade?
16:45	Maria João Valente	Mesolithic and Neolithic shell middens in Western Algarve: issues in ecology, taphonomy and economy
17:00	António C. Valera, J. Parreira & C. Costa	A Chalcolithic burial of an equid: the case of Etar de V.N. de Mil Fontes
17:15	Debate
17:30	Closing remarks
18:30		Wine reception - Museu Geológico (Rua da Academia das Ciências, Lisboa)

March 9

10:00	Cláudia Costa & L. Baptista	The inclusion of faunal remains in Bronze age funerary practices in Southern Portugal, Montinhos 6 - a case study
10:15	Mariana Nabais	Animal bones from the Roman site of Tróia (Grândola, Portugal): mammal and bird remains from the fish-salting workshop 2, sector 2
10:30	Silvia Valenzuela-Lamas	Mammal remains from the Governor's House (Belém Tower, Lisbon) and the archaeological site in the Rua dos Correiros (Baixa, Lisbon) in the context of fish processing factories in Lusitania
10:45	Jaquelina Covaneiro	The animal species, domestic and wild, that inhabited Tavira in the past and today
11:00	COFFEE BREAK
11:30	C. Detry, J.L. Cardoso & V. H. Correia	What did they eat in Roman and Moslem Conimbriga - the animal bones from the 1990s excavations
11:45	Vera Pereira	Zooarchaeological perspective of the islamic sites in Algarve - Current State of Knowledge
12:00	Debate
12:15	LUNCH BREAK
14:00	Simon Davis	Some thoughts on the beginnings of animal domestication in Portugal
14:30	Cleia Detry, L. Gambini & A. Corte-Real	At table with the nuns of 17th century Santa-Clara-a-Velha Monastery (Coimbra, Portugal)
14:45	Margarida Fernandes, M. Casas, A. Frazão-Moreira & J.A. Godoy	Lynx and Man: importance of historical research for the future of a threatened species
15:00	Octávio S. Paulo	On the origin of the Iberian Chameleons
15:15	Debate
15:30	COFFEE BREAK
16:00	Catarina Ginja, S. Davis, A. E. Pires, J. Matos, C. Hänni, E. Svensson & A. Götherström	A diachronic phylogenetic study of Iberian cattle: some preliminary results
16:15	Ana Elisabete Pires, C. Detry, C. Ginja & C. Hänni	A phylochronology of the domestic dog in Iberia
16:30	Barbara van Asch	Short genetic distances between modern Iberian wild boars and South Iberian domestic pigs
16:45	Cristina Luís, J. Morais & M. do Mar Oom	Horse Domestication in Iberia - Past, Present and Future
17:00	Debate
17:15	Nuno F. Bicho	The future of Zooarchaeology: an Archaeologist's point of view
17.30	Closing remarks
18:00		Visit to the Archaeosciences Laboratory (Igespar) - (limited to 50 people)

Poster session:

- Large carnivores' diversity during the Palaeolithic Iberian Peninsula - Francisco Correia & Rui Ramos
- Study of the mammals recovered in Cabeço da Amoreia (Muge – Portugal): State of the art - Alexandra Pereira
- The faunal assemblage recovered from the Chalcolithic settlement of Escoural (Montemor-o-Novo, Portugal) - Mohamed Azaza
- In death just as in life. Ties between Man and animals in Southwest Iberian Peninsula Bronze Age: case studies from Alto de Brinches 3 e Torre Velha 3 (Serpa, Alentejo, Portugal) - Eduardo Porfírio & Miguel Serra
- Humans and carnivores: the Late Bronze age archaeofauna of Cadaval (Alto Ribatejo, Central Portugal) - Nelson Almeida, Palmira Saladié, Ana Rosa Cruz & Luiz Oosterbeek
- A Malacofauna da Casa do Governador da Torre de Belém – Projecto “A indústria de recursos haliêuticos no período romano: a fábrica da Casa do Governador da Torre de Belém, o estuário do Tejo e fachada atlântica - Manuela Coelho
- The faunal assemblage from a roman pit in the villa of São Miguel de Odrinhas (Sintra) - Alexandre Gonçalves
- An isotopic study on Atlantic cod: insights regarding trade and fishing strategies from the Pictish period to the Norse Age in North Atlantic Scotland - Nayeli Jiménez-Cano
- Early European records of Neotropical mammals: a review of iconographic and literary sources - Marco Masseti & Cecilia Veracini

